

Westinghouse supports America's veterans.

Let's accomplish
great things
together.

Westinghouse and its more than 15,000 global employees are committed to supporting operating nuclear plants throughout the world, offering a wide range of products and services. We are working to build four units of our newest design, the Westinghouse AP1000, in the United States and construction is underway in China for four AP1000 units. The AP1000 reactor design has also been announced as the technology of choice for 14 new plants in the United States.

Join us and be part of a global effort to provide future generations with safe, clean and reliable electricity.
